

FACILITATOR'S GUIDE

Tips

- ✦ Be sure to read the “Being a Good Facilitator” section of the Book Study Guidelines for lots of helpful tips that aren’t repeated here.
- ✦ After doing introductions in the first meeting, pass out the first discussion guide.
- ✦ One way to start is to take turns reading the discussion guide questions and then reading the pages in the book covered by each question.
- ✦ Try to keep conversation centered on the material, but realize that all the points in a discussion guide might not be covered during the meeting.
- ✦ Jeanette and Nelson’s story sets the tone for serious spiritual thought and discussion about relationships. No pain, no gain! Relationship matters can be sensitive and some people may not want to share their thoughts. If no one comes forward to speak, you can simply move on to another point.
- ✦ One possibility for the second meeting is to ask if the group would like to see a Nelson Eddie and Jeanette MacDonald movie. This may depend on where you hold the meetings. Some movies to choose from: Naughty Marietta, Rose Marie, Maytime, Sweethearts.
- ✦ If the group prefers, the exercise in Discussion Guide 5 may be done at home. On the other hand, doing it privately during the meeting can add a dimension to the experience because of the group bonding.
- ✦ Before ending each meeting, hand out the next discussion guide and tell participants what pages will be covered. (All the book study materials can be copied and freely distributed.)
- ✦ Simple refreshments can bring warmth and comfort to the group.
- ✦ You may want to schedule a celebration after your last meeting to commemorate your time together!

Heart-to-Heart

First Meeting: Introductions

- ✦ Tell everyone your name and share some personal background information.
- ✦ Ask how everyone heard about the book study or why they are interested in the topic. This helps people get acquainted and feel comfortable.

All Other Meetings

Keeping in Touch – At the beginning of each meeting ask questions like:

KEEPING IN TOUCH

- ▶ Is there something from the reading you would especially like to discuss?

(You'll find out if people didn't have time to read it!)

Similar questions appear at the beginning of each discussion guide. It's a friendly way to help people get back in touch with each other.

Closing

You can use the last point in the discussion guide, a moment of meditation or any other idea that works for you and the group. Thank everyone for coming.

The Last Meeting

At the end of the last discussion guide are some suggestions and ideas for you and the group to consider. These book study guides are courtesy of The Summit Lighthouse 1-800-245-5445.
